On this server everyone is opped(with limitations). There is no protection at all and it's just a big open world where people build and can grief. Players are reopped every once in a while and you can only be banned for a day. If you use nuker it will auto ban you! Btw they don't do name bans just IP.

On as rangerccr, me and roman are building a giant hackforums near the back of the buildings

Oh, I know these types of servers. Every couple hours the map is wiped so people can go around and fuck around a bit more. You can't really grief them, because people don't actually go there to put time and effort into it, but rather to just try abusing mod powers.

Why do people keep posting the TotalFreedom server? 😞 Everybody already knows about it. And Emylbus is right; the map is (supposed to be) reset every few hours, though this is greatly expedited due to the fact that they get so many lazy griefers who can't/don't want to grief without OP, and it feels as if the server is restarted for a map reset every ten fucking minutes, lol.

Head my warning HF don't use a nuker on the server or else it auto IP bans you and you have to come back on a VPN.

Your IP address is banned from this server.
Reason: Banned by an operator.

It's fun to grief it and all, but they have limited your access a lot as an op. You think you have access to everything, but really you have access to not that much.

My IP address is already banned. This server must've been posted before.

They can rollback a grief in like 2 seconds, they IP ban, they op everybody, and the map resets every couple of hours. Not really worth it imo 😞

I grieved nearly all of spawn to shit, got IP banned and joined again on a VPN and it was all back to how it was before I grieved it. So there is not point really.

went on there for about 3 minutes.
was banned after constantly trolling people saying
"i come to fuck bitches and hack your families"
heh

1. Nope. 2. Not that I know of, that or the other one the ban at first is one minute until you are only banned for an hour. 3. Duh. 4. Not always.
